The Rathbone Sisters entertained at Castle ball on Tuesday night. A series of high five games were followed by refreshments served by the ladies in their usual hospitable manner.

Among the pleasant events of the week was a dance in the Second ward institute by the young people of the ward on Thursday evening. The mutual improvement associations of the Third ward gave a very enjoyable party on Wednesday evening, while the Fourth ward people had their valentine dance on Friday evening. The regular ball of the Union opera house was held on Friday instead of Saturday, and valentines were there in abundance.

On Friday evening occurred the musical dramatic entertainment in the Second ward. This was quite an elaborate affair, the first part consisting of musical numbers beginning with a quartette by E. F. Trout, C. W. Hinchelliffe, John McQuarrie and Fred Trout. Mrs. T. F. Child's piano solo was encored as was Hagbert Anderson's bass solo. Mrs. Allson sang a contraito solo and had to sing "Ben Bolt" before she was allowed to leave. Professor Radeliffe rendered an exquisite arrangement of "Home, Sweet Home." as the encore accorded his first and more classical piano solo. C. F and Fred Trout sank "Excelsior" and two selections by the Social Mandolin club completed the musical numbers. Then came the one-act comedy by the Second Ward Dramatic company.

Mrs. Pratt gave an afternoon Friday to her friends. It was a hearts party and the idea was beautifully carried out. The invitations were heart shaped and the game was hearts, as was also the counters thereof. Heart shaped biscuits, confections and the like were served and the prizes were likewise suggestive in some way or other of this emblem of St. Valentine.

On Monday, at the home of Enoch Farr, 2135 Adams avenue, occurred the reception in honor of the marriage of his daughter Belle to Chris Christensen of Salt Lake. The wedding was solemnized in the temple the previous Thursday. Miss Farr was one of Ogden's most popular young ladies, and society in Salt Lake gains much by her removal thither.

The Ogden Home Dramatic association went to West Weber Friday and played "Better Than Gold" to a very large audience. The affair was for the benefit of W. M. Purrington, who leaves next Saturday on a mission to Europe. The audience was very entrusiastic, Miss Janie Taylor making what in theatrical performances would be called a "hit."

The cast of characters was as follows:
